MUNDAY

Authentic and Comprehensive Account of the Chief events in the History of the State, a special sketch of every parish and a record of the lives of many of the most worthy and illustrious families and individuals.

Major G. W. Munday, a prominent and well-to-do planter of East Feliciana parish and one of the oldest settlers, having been here since 1831, was born in Pass Christian, Miss. while his parents were there spending the summer, during a vacation, from New Orleans, La. He was born in 1817, and is a son of Robert and Susan Ann (Kyler) Munday. The father was a native of Virginia, his mother of Lancaster, Penn. The father was reared at Munday's Landing, Ky., now in Mercer County, and was one of three brothers. Rueben and Harrison Munday came from Virginia soon after the settlement in Ky. by Boone. The two lived here for some time, when Harrison went to Missouri and Reuben to Michigan. The father of our subject was married in Pennsylvania, and with his wife moved to New Orleans from Kentucky in about 1815. He was engaged in building flat-boats at Munday's Landing on the Kentucky river, and was also engaged in boating down the river to New Orleans, taking sugar, salt, and supplies. He continued to reside in New Orleans for some time, when he went to Texas during the early troubles, where he died, leaving one son and one daughter. The daughter, Elizabeth Munday, married John Fleeup of Pennsylvania, and settled in Rankin County, Mississippi, where she died leaving several children.

Our subject was reared in Louisiana, except for two years when he was in Mississippi a young boy. He attended school for a time in Baton Rouge, La., but was mostly educated by his mother. She married a second husband, a Mr. Slade, and settled in Hines County, Miss., where she died. In 1828 Major Munday commenced life on his own account, working on a farm. In 1834-35 he clerked in a store in Clinton, La. and soon after was in the grocery trade. In 1837 he purchased an interest in "The Louisiana" published in Clinton, which paper he owned in 1837-38. He was then deputy for a number of years, under different sheriffs, Robins, Brown, and Hays. He was appointed the first agent of the Clinton & Port Hudson Railroad Company, at Clinton in 1839-40-41. He then engaged in farming, first on a farm near the Mississippi river, later purchasing land near Clinton, where he has since been engaged in tilling the soil. He was married in 1841 to Laura Ann Felps, a native of this parish, the daughter of Joseph Felps, a native of Georgia, who was reared in this parish. Laura Ann Felps was educated at Clinton Female Academy, by Mrs. Jane G. Gerardi and her sister Miss Lucretia Bancroft, sisters of the great historian, George Bancroft. Mrs. Gerardi was the mother of Commodore Bancroft Gerardi. These estimable ladies established this academy in 1832, and they taught and managed the school for a number of years with great success. Those who followed as instructors were Miss Eliza Mills, a well known teacher, Mr. McDowell, and Mrs. Clifford. Mrs. Munday, the present wife of our subject, is now the principal. The first wife of Mr. Munday died in 1863, leaving three daughters and a son: Mary, the wife of William E. Woodward, ex-sheriff of the parish; Laura L., the wife of John M. Beauchamp, who lives near Clinton; Saluda C. was the wife of Palmer Andrews and died leaving a family of four children all of whom survive her and live in the parish. George W. was the eldest of the children, and lives in Mississippi; Loulie L., a fifth child, died at the age of sixteen years, having been educated at Silliman Institute and at the Clinton Female Academy.

Munday Family

Major Munday was married, the second time, to Miss Sallie E. Daniels, a native of New York, who was reared partly in New York and also in Illinois. She was educated at Lima, at the Genesee Wesleyan Seminary, New York, and also in Illinois at Marengo College. At the age of seventeen she came South to help her brother, who had come here to establish a school. She and a friend, Miss Stewart, joined her brother at the founding of the school known as Gilliad Academy, of this parish. Mrs. Munday was the daughter of John Daniels, a native of Nova Scotia, B. A. and Lucinda Eaton, a native of New York. Her mother was a descendant of the Eatons who came to this country on the Mayflower in 1620. Her parents moved to Illinois when she was a girl, and settled in McHenry County, where they continued to reside the remainder of their lives. They became the parents of four children - two sons and two daughters - all of whom are deceased except Mrs. Munday. William Daniels died in Illinois, at the home of his parents. B. S. Daniels came South and established the school in East Feliciana parish, at Gilliad, and was killed during the late war near Atlanta, Ga. (He, with several of his students, joined the Fourth Regiment of Louisiana Infantry. He had received a fine education at Charlottesville and Lima N. Y. and was a promising young man); the other child, Lucinda, died at the age of two years. To our subject and his wife have been born four children: Daniels Eaton attending school at Port Gibson, Miss. at the Chamberlin Hunt Academy (he is well educated and was the census enumerator of the First Ward of this parish in 1890). Bessie E. is teaching at the Clinton Female Academy (she was educated at the Clinton Academy and at the Louisiana State Normal school, at Natchitoches, and was graduated from the two schools and commenced teaching before she was eighteen years of age, being a very accomplished young lady). Effie died at the age of eleven months and Willie also died in infancy. Mrs. Munday took charge of the Clinton Female Academy in 1879, and has been successfully in charge ever since. She is well and favorably known and has met with deserved success, and gives the best satisfaction to all of her patrons. She is a lady of fine attainments and highly accomplished. Her special line of work has been in the teaching of Latin, French, drawing, music and literary work. In 1891 she had eight graduates. Mrs. Munday and her daughter are members of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Mr. Munday was commissioned major-general of the militia before the war, and held all the offices from a private to that he last held, major-general. He has taken a very active part in politics all of his life, being a staunch democrat. Before the war he was first sent to the legislature in 1852, and was afterward re-elected in 1854. He was also a member of the Senate just before the war. Since the war he was again elected to the House and later to the Senate. He was also a member of the constitutional convention in 1879. He was president of the state democratic convention which sent the delegates to nominate Buchanan for President of the United States and was also president of the convention elected to send delegates to nominate Stephen A. Douglas, at Baltimore. He was a delegate to the southern convention held at Montgomery, Ala. in 1858. While in the legislature he was the means of having a bill passed for the widon's dowry and the homestead law, which made him many friends in this state, also the local option law, about the first act of this character passed by any of the states; it works well. He has held many important offices in this parish at different times, being for a number of years a member of the police jury and the assessor of his parish.

Received of

He has one of the finest libraries to be found anywhere in the vicinity. He is quite interested in farming, enjoying all the advantages of a plantation home. The many ways in which he has served his fellow citizens and neighbors, politically, have won for him the highest respect of all, which he so richly deserves, and he and his estimable wife are regarded with the utmost esteem in the parish.

MRS. ELIZA FRITZ.)

DEATHS:

OBITUARY

DIED - In Algiers, Fifth District of New Orleans, on Sunday morning, Nov. 22, 1874, at 4 o'clock, Brother JOHN WILLIAM MONDAY, in the fifty-second year of his age.

Brother MONDAY was born in the state of Virginia, on the 5th of June, 1823.
He moved with his parents to Zanesville, Ohio, when he was about eleven years of age, where he continued to reside until the failure of his health in 1856. Having pulmonic symptoms, he sought at that time, with his wife and children, a more genial climate. Spending several years in the pursuit of the desired latitude, he finally, in 1860, came to New Orleans, where he enjoyed comparatively good health until a few months ago, when his old disease assumed a form that no human skill could check, and soon deprive his afflicted family of all hopes of his recovery, though they were flattered to believe that he might be spared to them several months; but alas!

"Death rides on every passing breeze,
And lurks in every flower;
Each season has its own disease,
its peril every hour!"

MUNDAY BIBLE RECORDS - DEATHS

Brother MONDAY, when about 22 years of age, united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, and continued a member until his relation to the church was interrupted by his frequent removal from one place to another in search of a suitable locality. He did not, however, excuse himself for his neglect of his christian obligations, but on the contrary it was a source of regret to him that he had been at all derelict to his church, and remarked on uniting in christian fellowship again, that "it hurt him to think that he knew his duty and did it not." With much sorrow of heart for his past omissions and hearty confession, he turned again to God, trusting in the blood of Christ, and seeking membership in the Methodist Episcopal Church South, Algiers Charge; he was formally received by the pastor, to the gratification of his family, who sorrow not as those who have no hope, but sing,

"Thou art gone to the grave - we no longer behold thee,
Nor tread the rough paths of the world by thy side;
But the wide arms of mercy are spread to enfold thee,
And sinners may hope since the sinless has died."

Brother MONDAY, when about 24 years of age, was married, in his adopted town of Zanesville, to Miss Susan Catherine JERVIS. He raised a large and respectable family, who deeply mourn the loss of a loving husband and an affectionate, kind and tender father. His children - five in number - four daughters grown, three of them married, and a son ten years of age, were so accustomed to depend on their father, and to look to him for everything, now that he is gone, they feel that their loss is irreparable. But we commend them to Him who has made special promises to the widow and the orphan, and may they realize that His grace is sufficient in Christ Jesus to sustain them.

The number of friends that came to the house of mourning and followed his remains to the silent tomb, was a manifestation of the estimation in which he was held by them, and may his death be sanctified by the great disposer of all events to the salvation of their souls.

LEWIS A. REED.

The Zanesville papers will please copy.
New Orleans, Nov. 27, 1874.

(Lewis A. Reed was the pastor of the Algiers Methodist Episcopal Church, now known as the United Methodist Church. JPR)

BERTAUT - On Tuesday, May 5, 1885, at 9:30 o'clock a.m., Melazie MELANCON, widow of J. Colin BERTAUT, aged sixty-nine years, a native of the parish of St. James.

DESCENDANTS OF JOHN MUNDAY

Third Generation

John Munday (#3), was born in Essex County, Virginia. Caroline County, Virginia in 1752. (New County, Carol formed from Essex County in 1727). Wife, Sarah ? (name unknown). Children, 7 in number, were:

|----------|-------------------|
| James | Sarah |
| John | Winifred (Winnie) |
| Benjamin | |
| *Edmund | |
| Reuben | |

John Munday (#3) apparently was not a timid man, nor of a restrained temperament where his political beliefs were concerned. According to Caroline County records (some ex damage to the Old Courthouse during Revolutionary and Wars), he incurred the enmity of one John Martin, a politician and money lender, in 1735, following which he was and fined for "mis-conduct before the polls." (The local apparently didn't place too much credence in the charge Munday, and 32 others, since the fine assessed amounted penny only.)

In 1736, John Martin, the money-lender and politician, drastic action in his quarrel with the men he felt had him of victory" in the hotly contested election of the year--by foreclosing on their outstanding notes. Unable the lands belonging to all 33 men were seized by Martin action made him popular!)

Essex County Will Book #7, 1743-1747, contains a record Account Sale of Estate of James Atkins, dated November (James Atkins, husband of Elizabeth Reeves Munday Atkins the step-father of John Munday (#3). John Munday #3 part in the distribution of the Estate. Particularly, he part tools from the Estate for use of his slaves "in Caroline

Sarah Munday was named Administratrix of John Munday's Estate following his death in 1752. Unfortunately, the records of to settlement of the estate were destroyed. (Fragments of cords on hand in the Caroline County Courthouse show that Munday, a poor orphan, was "Bound" to Benjamin & Sarah in 1756.)

Also, from fragments of Orphan's Court records, it was

DESCENDANTS OF JOHN MUNDAY

Fifth Generation

Thomas Munday was born 10 January, 1780 in Caroline Co Virginia. He died 26 July, 1833 in Woodford County, Kentucky, and was buried in a private family cemetery on his father's Munday's Landing, Woodford County, Kentucky.

Wife: Susannah Slaughter. Children:

|--------------|-----------------|
| *Edmund | Eliza |
| Jeremiah V. | Lucy S. |
| Reuben | Elizabeth Ann |
| Robert C. S. | Mary (Polly) H. |
| Gabriel Pope | |

Thomas Munday moved with his parents from Caroline Co Virginia to Mercer County, Kentucky about 1788. His father Edmund (#1) died while Thomas was still a very young man (1800).

Thomas married Susannah Slaughter in Mercer County, Kentucky 29 April, 1801.

On 7 February, 1806, Thomas purchased 260 acres of land on the Woodford County side of the Kentucky River, opposite the mouth of Shawnee Run and land Thomas was given by his father Edmund (#1) in Mercer County. The purchase of this parcel of land gave Thomas control of the only feasible crossing site of the Kentucky river in that area.

A huge sandbar in a bend of the river, some five- or six yards upstream, made navigation of the river by river transport barges impossible, beyond the river crossing point now known as Munday's Landing.

Thomas Munday was a very industrious man with unusual energy. During the short span of his life in Kentucky, he built and operated a ferry at the location which came to be known as Munday's Landing. He also acquired and operated a saw gristmill; a boat-building business; and docks for the loading and unloading of riverboats. He constructed an inn at Munday's Landing to accommodate passengers embarking on and departing the riverboats. (His sons enlarged the inn after their father's death in July, 1833 (cholera epidemic), and expanded the tavern business.)

DESCENDANTS OF JOHN MUNDAY

Sixth Generation

Edmund Munday (#2) was born 24 May, 1802 in Mercer County, Kentucky. He died 1 July, 1866 at Munday's Landing, Wood County, Kentucky. Buried in private family cemetery, Wood County, Kentucky.

Wife: Margaret Lowrey, born 22 December, 1802, Jessamine County, Kentucky. Children:

|---------------------|-----------------|
| Thomas Hart | Susan Mary |
| James M. | Sarah Elizabeth |
| Robert Lowrey | Lucy Jane |
| Reuben Pope | |
| *John J. Crittenden | |

Edmund (#2) and his brother, Jeremiah V. Munday, were equal of their father's estate in Kentucky (August, 1833).

Under terms of the will of Thomas Munday, Edmund (#2) in the operation of the ferry business at Munday's Landing, inherited half-interest in the boat-building business at sawmill owned by his father, Thomas Munday.

A yoke of oxen given to Edmund (#2) by Thomas indicates Edmund was also a farmer.

After Edmund (#2's) death in 1866, operation of the boat ferry was transferred to Edmund's brother, Jeremiah Vard Munday.

At the outbreak of the Civil War, Kentucky attempted to neutral. However, this was not to be. The Mundays, as their friends and neighbors, were slave owners. As was in so many families of that period, opinions were divided. Edmund's sons were torn in their loyalties. Reuben Pope and my Grandfather, John J. Crittenden Munday served with "D", Sixth Kentucky Volunteer Cavalry--later were transferred to 6th Kentucky Veteran Cavalry (Union Army).

In 1862 the Confederate Army made a sweep into Kentucky, included the crossing of the Kentucky River at Munday's Landing, passing through Versailles to Lexington, then back, recrossed the river at Munday's Landing, then Southwesterly toward Paducah. Apparently there was no battle in the area since

Lt. Col. Reuben Munday

Posted by Steven L. Wright <slwright@ne.ifi.net> on Wed, 20 Jan 1999

Surname: Munday

The Kentucky Register

Richmond, Madison County, Ky.

Friday Morning, April 16, 1880 page 3 col. 1

Death of Colonel Munday--Col. Reuben Munday, a well known citizen of this county, died at his residence near Big Hill on Saturday last aged about seventy-two years. Before the war he was an ardent Whig, and took a very great interest in politics. He was once a member of the Lower House, and once a member of the Senate of Kentucky. He was a man of strong character, and possessed great influence with the people. He was twice married, his second wife being Miss _____ Chenault. At the breaking out of the war he raised a battalion, and served until its close with the rank of Colonel. He did efficient service on the Federal side, and was well thought of by all his men. Since the war he has taken no interest in politics, but has voted the Republican ticket. His remains were buried on Sunday last at Stanford, where he has a daughter living. A large concourse of relatives and friends followed him to the grave.

Note: Reuben Munday was Lieutenant Colonel of "Munday's Battalion of Cavalry. He first started what was to be company D of that battalion. He resigned due to his health in early 1863. His battalion was joined to 7 more companies in late 1862 and became the 6th Kentucky Volunteer Cavalry.

Lt. Col. Munday was born in Mercer County, Kentucky 3 October 1809 and died 10 April 1880. He was buried at Buffalo Springs Cemetery in Stanford, Kentucky.

I am writing a history of this unit if any one has information to share or needs information about Munday's Battalion or the 6th Kentucky Cavalry please contact me. Steven L. Wright

KENTUCKY RIVER IN BY-GONE DAYS

By Lucile Shryock Davis

With the locks being opened May 21, I thought it might be appropriate to re on how it was on the Kentucky River in by-gone days.

I cannot identify the boat in the picture, nor do I know who took the picture during the years between the close of the Civil War and the turn of the century there a number of steamboats on the Kentucky River.

A "packet" is a vessel conveying dispatches, mail, passengers and goods, and having fixed sailing days (Webster). Some of the packets were Royal, Hattie Brown City II, Oriole and Sanoma (HISTORIC KENTUCKY, J. Winston Coleman, Jr.)

The last showboat to ply the Kentucky River was the Princess, owned by Ca Billy Bryant (HISTORIC KENTUCKY).

In HIGH BRIDGE, by Howard Curry, are these names of steamers: Wren, I Blue Wing, Eureka, and Little Dick.

In an old scrap book yellow with age and pages crumbly to the touch, I f handwritten article by the owner, Freddie Moore, entitled "History of Mundy's Landi River Travel."

It is with gratitude that I submit Mrs. Moore's article as she wrote it and my to her son, Bob Moore, for the loan of the scrap book.

HISTORY OF MUNDY'S LANDING AND RIVER TRAVEL

Shawnee Run Creek emptied into the Kentucky River and formed a huge sar Thomas Mundy came before 1800-the first house on Carter Lane. He and h died of cholera in 1833. John (son) took over and built more houses on both sides of th and operated a ferry.

Louisville, Madison (Ind.), Cincinnati had steamboat agents - Merchants, planters, others ordered goods to be sent to Woodford Landing (Oregon, Darneals (McCowans), Leestown (1 mile beyond Frankfort) - Tim's Fish Market. River boats to deep south with hemp bagging, rope, wheat flour, grain and Negroes.

A 250 ton boat could make the trip to New Orleans in 8 to 10 days.

1852 - Government came to aid of rivermen reducing toll fee through locks. Showboat giving one-night shows in the 1920's.

Port Royal, Monterey, Polsgrove, Elkhorn, Belle Point, Frankfort, Old Crow Clifton, Tyrone, McCowans Ferry, Brooklyn, High Bridge, Camp Nelson, Boonesboro College Hill, West Irvine.

Show changed and then went back.

BY THE RIVER-SIDE—Quiet now, double galleries of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Johnson must once have bustled with guests attracted to the busy river port. Most of the upstairs rooms once could be reached only from the open gallery. Col. George Chinn, who grew up in the house, recalls being told that one room, constructed with a door and a window high in the wall, was used to overcome by delirium tremens. "I locked a door and it once or twice. It certainly was sound-proof."

FROM UP-RIVER—Summer foliage screens two-story high columns that support a portico above the front door (right). Calciferous ore was mined closeby; fluorspar was mined until 1918. (Staff Photos by John C. Wyatt).

PICTURES OF THE PAST

FACTS FROM A NEWSPAPER PRINTED IN CLINTON NEARLY A HUNDRED YEARS AGO, WITH SOME OBSERVATIONS.

A close of the first volume of Louisiana, in 1838, necessarily is this series of articles to a review of the volume tells little about the pioneer editor, General Munday, who witnessed was a prominent factor in much of the early history of this section. From a volume published in the early '90's, we are able to present to our readers a complete graphical sketch of both General Mrs. Munday, who were at that time still among the living—loved and honored citizens. Following is the sketch:

General G. W. Munday, a prominent well-to-do planter of East Feliciana parish, and one of its oldest settlers, having been here since he was born in Pass Christian, Miss., while his parents were there during the summer, during a visit from New Orleans, La. He was born in 1817, and is a son of Robert and Susan (Kyler) Munday. His father was a native of Virginia, his mother of Lancaster, Pa. The father was reared at Munday's Landing, Ky., now in Mercer county, and was one of three brothers. Reuben and Harrison Munday came from Virginia soon after the settlement of Kentucky by Boone. The two lived here for some time, when Harrison went to Missouri and Reuben to Michigan. The father of our subject was married in Pennsylvania, and with his wife moved to New Orleans from New York in about 1815. He was engaged in building flatboats at Munday's Landing on the Kentucky river, and was also engaged in boat-trading down the river to New Orleans, carrying sugar, salt and supplies. He continued to reside in New Orleans some time, when he went to the river during the early troubles, where he died, leaving one son and one daughter. The daughter, Elizabeth Munday, married John Fleury, of Pennsylvania, and settled in this country. Mrs. Munday was leaving several children. Our subject, a native of New York, who was reared partly in New York and also in Illinois. She was educated at Lima, at the Genesee Wesleyan seminary, New York, and also in Illinois, at Marengo college. At the age of seventeen she came South to help her brother, who had come here to establish a school. She and a friend, Miss Stewart, joined her brother at the founding of the school known as the Gilliad academy, of this parish. Mrs. Munday was the daughter of John Daniels, a native of Nova Scotia, B. A., and Lucinda Easton, a native of New York. Her mother was a descendant of the Eastons, who came to this country in the Mayflower in 1620. Her parents moved to Illinois when she was a girl, and settled in McHenry county, where they continued to reside the remainder of their lives. They became the parents of four children—two sons and two daughters—all of whom are deceased except Mrs. Munday. William Daniels died in Illinois, at the home of his parents; B. S. Daniels came South and established the school in East Feliciana parish, at Gilliad, and was killed during the late war near Atlanta, Ga. (He with several of his students joined the Fourth regiment of Louisiana infantry. He had received a fine education at Charlottesville, and Lima, N. Y., and was a promising young man); the other child, Lucinda, died at the age of two years. To our subject and his wife have been born four children: Daniels Easton, attending school at Port Gibson, Miss., at the Chamberlin Hunt academy (he is well educated, and was census enumerator of the First ward of this parish in 1890); Bessie E., is teaching at the Clinton Female academy (she was educated at the Clinton academy and at the Louisiana State Normal school, at Natchitoches, and was graduated from the two schools and commenced teaching before she was eighteen years of age, being a very accomplished young lady); Effie died at the age of eleven months, and Willie died also in infancy. Mrs. Munday took charge of the Clinton Female academy in 1879, and has been successfully in charge ever since. She is well and favorably known and has met with well deserved success, and given the best satisfaction to all her patrons. She is a lady of fine attainments and highly accomplished. Her special line of work has been in teaching Latin, French, drawing, music and literary work. In 1891 she had eight graduates. Mrs. Munday and her daughter are members of the Methodist Episcopal church. Mr. Munday was commissioned major-general of the militia before the war, and held all the offices from a private to that he last held, major-general. He has taken a very active part in politics all of his life being a staunch democrat. Before the war he was sent to the legislature in 1852, and was afterward re-elected in 1854. He was also a member of the senate just before the war. Since the war he was again elected to the house and later to the senate. He was also a member of the constitutional convention in 1879. He was president of the state democratic convention which sent the delegates to nominate Buchanan for president of the United States, and was also elected president of the convention elected to send delegates to nominate Stephen A. Douglas, at Baltimore. He was a delegate to the southern convention held at Montgomery, Ala., in 1859. While in the legislature he was the means of having a bill passed for the widows' dower and the homestead law, which made him many friends in this state, also the local option law, about the first act of this character passed by any of the states; it works well. He held many important offices in this parish at different times, being for a number of years a member of the police jury and the assessor of this parish. He has one of the finest libraries to be found anywhere in this vicinity. He is quite interested in farming, enjoying all the advantages of a plantation home. The many ways in which he has served his fellow-citizens and neighbors, politically, have won for him the highest respect of all, which he so richly deserves, and he and his estimable wife are regarded with the utmost esteem in this parish.

Dear Nan: My Great-Grandfather, from East Feliciana Parish, La. (Clinton, La.) gave the following in Vol II Biographical Historical Memoirs of Louisiana - Published 1892 - Page 266-268.

Major G.W. Munday, a prominent and well-to-do planter of East Feliciana parish and one] of the oldest settlers, having been here since 1831, was born in Pass Christian, Miss. while his parents were there spending the summer, during a vacation, from New Orleans, La. He was born in 1817, and is a son of Robert and Susan Ann (Kyler) Munday. The father was a native of Virginia, his mother of Lancaster, Penn. The father was reared at Munday's Landing, Ky., now in Mercer County, and was one of three brothers. Rueben and Harrison Munday came from Virginia soon after the settlement in Ky. by Boone. The two lived here for some time, when Harrison went to Missouri and Reuben to Michigan. The father of our subject was married in Pennsylvania, and with his wife moved to New Orleans from Kentucky in about 1815. He was engaged in building flatboats at Munday's Landing on the Kentucky river, and was also engaged in boating down the river to New Orleans, taking sugar, salt, and supplies. He continued to reside in New Orleans for some time, when he went to Texas during the early troubles, where he died, leaving one son and one daughter. The daughter, Elizabeth Munday, married John Fleup of Pennsylvania, and settled in Rankin County, Mississippi, where she died leaving several children.

This goes on and on regarding his life in Louisiana and his two marriages. I come from the first marriage. I will mail you the entire article if you would like to have it. I do know there was a Munday's Landing in KY. I got that from their Historical Society. I cannot find anything on Susan Ann Kyler. I keep thinking that maybe she was from Lancaster, Ky and not Pa. since Lancaster was so near Mercer County. However, when we cannot find what we are looking for, we imagine all sorts of things. I do have a printer, so I print out all information I receive on my E-Mails so I don't lose any important info. I cannot find Robert Munday in La or Ms Census records. Thanks a lot. Margaret Fourth Monday in October the fall term of the circuit court is here.

Will be services at the Lutheran church at this place on next Sunday at 10:30.

Embroke R. Labuzan, of Mobile the home of her parents, Mr. C. H. Alley.

W. Hamilton, of Grand Bay, closed of fifteen bushels of sweet at $1.10 per bushel.

Government dredging of the Passiver will be actively renewed first of November.

Anna Piaggio and sister, from are visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. at West Pascagoula.

Y night an enjoyable surprise is given at the home of Capt. A. Soderstrom at Pascagoula.

Camellion Society, or "Lizard getting in shape for its cold entertainments at Pascagoula.

Set potato crop is a good one, the average price being $1.10 per bushel. Many of our countymen are growing these favorite tubers.

A change in the weather has created a livelier demand for fall and winter goods, and our merchants were well patronized on Sunday morning.

Barron, of Three Rivers, a gristmill man was a caller at the T-STAR office Tuesday, accompanied by his brother John W. Barron, of Alabama.

All business is now open, it is time for those who owe for the T-STAR to drop in or send in their bills. It takes money to run the business, you know.

The many visitors here to do shopping on Saturday were Mrs. Havens and daughters, Sabra and Miss S. J. Havens and Missy, of West Pascagoula.

Golson, the Delmas avenue farmer, has moved his family out to his pond, a mile or so from town.

The old man can be found at the pond every day in the week, except Sunday.

There are several desirable houses for sale at Pascagoula by the sea, which will be occupied by Northern winter sojourners. The attractiveness of our seacoast could be enjoyed the year round. A large amount of logs accumulated are these beautiful moonlight nights.

Rev. Father W. Ten Brink attended the funeral of Father Dutto at Mississippi City Monday.

Mr. J. W. Cox and family have gone to housekeeping in one of the Parker cottages in North Seranton.
